BOISE ITEMS.—Wells, Fargo & Co., furnish us the Boise News, of April 16th, from which we condense the following items:

At the charter election for Idaho City, held on the 4th inst., 1,548 votes were cast, 1,376 of which were adverse to the charter—thus defeating the measure that was to make it virtually a city.

Ike Smith, a lawyer not unknown to fame, has abandoned the "law," and taken to the stage. He was announced to appear on the evening of the 26th, in his great character of "Toodles."

Hon. Samuel Merritt, a well known California lawyer, and formerly a leading member of the State Senate, has arrived at Bannock, and hung out his shingle as attorney, &c.

A letter from South Boise, speaks very encouragingly of the Vernon ledge, and also of the Ophir and others. They have made as high as $.0 per day pounding rock in a hand mortar. The road by way of Boise city is open, and feed for both man and beast can be obtained every night on the way.

The News says of the Owyhee, we have been shown some specimens and furnished the names of a number of ledges recently discovered in the now new mining district called "Mammoth," some 15 miles from the Jordan creek mines, on Boulder creek. Some of the largest veins of silver bearing rock, well defined with complete casing, are located in the Mammoth district, that we ever heard of. ... we give the names of such as had been ... and named up to the time our informant left, with the thickness of each at ... Mammoth, 60 feet thick, Occidental, ... thick, Bluster, 20 feet thick; Accidental, 46 feet thick; Union, 20; Deer, 10; Hibernia, 15; Wisconsin, 12; Salamander, 3; Baltic, 8; Merrimac, 15; Banner, 12; Baggs, ...; Contraband, 6.

Bogus dust is in circulation in Boise. Several lots have been offered lately at Bannock and at Centreville, containing brass or copper filings in quantities perceptible to the practiced eye, but when mixed with quicksilvered gold it is well calculated to deceive the uninitiated. The easiest way to detect it is to pour it into a blower and flirt it a few times, when it rises to the top as readily as sand.

ITEMS FROM THE VICTORIA PAPERS.—We have received files of Victoria papers to the 18th of April, from which we condense the following summary:

The Hudson Bay Company have rented their farms on San Juan Island to an old employee.

Several debtors had taken advantage of the departure of the mail steamer on Sunday to bid defiance to their creditors, by stepping on board the service of writs of capias on the Lord's day being illegal.

During a recent voyage of the schooner Meteor, from San Francisco to Puget Sound, Orland A. Stoddard (son of the Captain of the schooner,) aged 18 years, was knocked overboard by the main jib, while in the act of adjusting the bonnet upon the same. He fell immediately under the bows of the vessel, which passed over him. He rose to the surface some distance astern, and a boat was immediately sent to his assistance, but he sank to rise no more, before it reached him.

The Indian tribes in the vicinity of Plumper's Pass are threatening a war among themselves. It is said that the Kit-e-mats, Euclataws, and Fort Rupert's are bent on destroying every Flathead village and its inhabitants on the east coast of the Island.

The U. S. Revenue cutter Joe Lane is at Port Angelos awaiting the enlistment of a crew to take her to San Francisco.

THREATENED INDIAN OUTBREAK.—A band of Indians on the coast have recently shown symptoms of disaffection, and have threatened to make a raid on the Quinault reservation—drive out or kill the agent and employees there and destroy the property belonging to that agency. The threatened trouble arises from efforts made by agent Geo. A. Paige to arrest the murderers of Cook, committed last December on Fish river, by Indians belonging to the Quillehut band, who reside on the coast, along a river of the same name. The band is small, but represented as very savage, of whom but little farther is known, no white man having ever penetrated their country, they not permitting it. The murder at the time created considerable excitement among the citizens of Port Angeles, who seriously thought of taking matters in their own hands, but better counsel prevailed. Mr. Paige went down in January and made such examination as satisfied him that he could identify the murderers, and accordingly a demand was made which resulted in the threat spoken of. On Saturday night last, a message reached this place from Paige asking for a detachment of soldiers to aid in the arrest, and to prevent any disturbance. On Tuesday, twenty men, under Lieut. Jester, started to his assistance, from the garrison at Steilacoom. If necessary, an additional force will be sent down from Vancouver.—Overland Press.

LORD JIM.—Lord Jim, a noted scoundrel, and tyee of the Clallam Indians, was killed on the 18th. Jim was inebriated, and agreed to carry Hughs from Dungeness to Port Discovery, and when off Sequim bay, undertook to kill Hughs, who struck him over the head with a club and knocked him out of the canoe and his Highness sank to rise no more. He leaves but few mourning friends.—Overland Press.

Expedition against the Canyon City Indians—a Fight

SOUTH FORK OF JOHN DAY'S RIVER, }
CAMP LINCOLN, April 17, 1864. }

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

You must excuse my pen (which is a pencil) for I have long since learned that he who roughs it among the mountains and sage plains, adopts the motto of "Everything goes." You are doubtless aware that on the 1st of March last an expedition consisting of 26 men, in command of Lieut. Jas. A. Waymire, 1st Cavalry Oregon Volunteers started for this place from Fort Dalles, Oregon.

The object of this expedition, as near as I can learn, was to meet as soon as possible the want of troops in this region to deter and punish the Indians who resort hereabout to murder and steal from the whites. It being contemplated to send as soon as possible, a larger force into this country, it is probable that Lt. Waymire was only sent upon the idea that half a loaf was better than no bread. This command arrived upon the South Fork, on the 17th day March last, and went into camp, intending to make this a point from whence to scout as occasion might require. This camp is 33 miles from Canyon City mines, upon the road to that place; it is nearer the centre of the Indian depredations than any other feasible point, and is well situated as to wood, water and grass.

The day after camping at this place, March 18th, information was received by Lt. W. that about 100 head of stock had been stolen from packers and others about Canyon City, and driven into the mountains by the Indians. Lt. W. immediately proceeded to Canyon City with the major part of his command, leaving but a few men take care of property about the camp. Arriving at the canyon, he found that the Indians had four days the start of him into a country of vast extent, and that to follow them with his small command, limited rations and jaded animals, would be perfectly futile, and that a party of citizens had gone in pursuit, or rather to see if they could find the trail of the thieves. Whereupon the troops returned, intending to scout the mountains about here and follow the trail if found, it not being improbable that they would strike it upon the head waters of the South Fork. At the same time, Lt. W. left word with the citizens of Canyon City that should the party already out find traces of the Indians, he would proceed up the South Fork, and with them follow on the trail. On the 22d, news was received that the trail had been struck, and that there was hope of recovering the stolen animals,—that a party was forming in Canyon to pursue and chastise the Indians. Lt. W. immediately wrote to the citizens of Canyon City, announcing his intention of co-operating with them, and asking that a guide be sent him that he might join his forces to their's at a point on the trail of the fleeing marauders. On the 24th, the guide arrived here, and the same day Lt. W. with 20 men and 20 days' rations, marched in pursuit, taking an old Indian trail up the course of the South Fork.

The first day's travel was almost entirely in the canyon of this stream crossing and recrossing the river continually; on the second, our route followed a wagon road from Jacksonville to Canyon City, and on the 3d, we left the wagon road on our right and took across the snow covered mountains into a large elevated valley and camped the 4th night near the so-called Malheur Silver Ledge. [This I believe, has since proved to be perfectly worthless.] The next day we struck the fresh trail of the Canyon City Company and camped that night at their last camp, where we learned from a notice left by them that they had gone on a day's travel over the mountains, that they would blaze their way, and requested us to follow as soon as possible. The next day we overtook them, twenty miles from our last camp. This had brought us some one hundred miles from our camp on the South Fork, over three ranges of snow covered mountains and through a series of small but very elevated valleys in which the ground was still frozen hard, and the grass had scarcely even started despite the lateness of the season, our animals having suffered much it was determined to lay over a day, and then scout, we then being on the border of an extensive valley in which is situated a large lake called Harney Lake.

HARNEY VALLEY

As by common consent we called it, is, I should judge, 80 miles long by 60 broad, and about 6,000 feet above the level of the sea, about half of its area is occupied by Harney Lake, which lake is constantly fed by several large streams rising in the mountains and flowing through numerous canyons on every side of the valley's circumference. The lake does not appear to have any outlet, and later in the season is probably of much less size, as many of the streams flowing towards it sink, its waters are said to be very alkaline, of which I had no opportunity to judge, but which is probable, as I observed the peculiar alkaline incrustation on the greater part of the valley which we travelled. The valley, with the exception of little portions of it, extending into the canyons, is a vast, sterile sage plain, almost destitute of game, though we saw a few antelope, jackass rabbits and sage chickens. Hot or thermal springs are said to be numerous in the valley, though I saw but one, it was steaming away finely, indicating a rather unpleasant proximity to regions unmentionable. The bluffs and table land in the midst of the valley look like islands at sea, and strongly favor the idea that the whole expanse of the valley was once an inland ocean. The mountains surrounding the valley at this time of the year are all snow covered, the greater portion of them probably throughout the year.

After scouting the valley a day or two the command concentrated near its south-eastern extremity, with the intention of moving on upon what appeared to be the last tracks made by the stolen stock, and which crossed the snowy ridge into another series of smaller valleys containing alkaline lakes. We were now about 65 men strong, with some ten days' rations; but as the Indian signs grew fresher daily, we had great hopes of overtaking and punishing them. After three days' hard marching, just as we were about to camp, a signal fire was observed ahead, and riding five or six miles on, Lt. W. and some of the volunteers came upon the just vacated wigwams of probably a dozen Indian families, and saw three of the hindmost escaping after two of these some of the volunteers gave chase, and shooting at them, wounded one and captured their two horses, though the Indians shot an arrow into one of the horses and escaped themselves. The boys of the cavalry immediately fell in and rode on to the scene, but after two or three hours searching, failed to find any other diggers, and were forced by the approach of night and the condition of their horses to camp for the night. The Indians first seen evidently decamped in great haste, as they left many proofs in the shape of rawhide packs filled with Indian iclas strewn about and a savory dish of roast horsehead untasted in their hurry.

One of two things was now certain, the Indians would either decamp in the night, or be prepared to meet us in battle, as signal fires had answered the first thrown up all over the valley, it was therefore determined to start before light the next day and surprise them if possible. Accordingly, leaving the pack train and all unnecessary incumbrances behind with sufficient guard in camp, Lt. W. with 15 men of the cavalry and 30 of the Canyon City company, marched at 3 o'clock a. m., toward the opposite extremity of the valley. At dawn, what was supposed to be an Indian fire was seen on the left of the route chosen, and Sergeant Robert Casted with four men was sent to reconnoitre, and then to rejoin as soon as possible. One of these men returned to camp sick, being attacked by the measles, (of which disease a half dozen of the cavalry boys have been suffering since we left Fort Dalles.) Lt. W. and party moved on—the soldiers remaining together and the citizens scattering along as their individual inclinations disposed them; now sallying at a gallop to one side to climb a rock on the side hill, which in the distance a fertile imagination pronounced to be an Indian, and now riding at a slow chase after a flock of wild geese, in which they frequently ... the speed of kaya Cyuse horses. In this way the citizens of the company were scattered in front and rear over a distance of six or seven miles in parties of from three to five men each, unwisely running down their riding animals and exposing themselves to surprise from the Indians. About 10 o'clock a. m., a shot was heard ahead, and moving on quickly Indians on foot and on horseback were soon discovered, occupying the whole front, when a general battle commenced which lasted two hours without either party gaining any lasting advantage. The citizens persisted in fighting each on his own hook, without any unity of purpose, and Lt. W.'s command being now but eleven strong, to contend with probably 200 well armed brave savages, it was deemed best to retreat to prevent the Indians from out flanking or reaching the camp, where all the property had been left. The retreat was successfully made in good order, the command reaching camp at 9 o'clock p. m., having fought the Indians a greater portion of the way. In this fight the Indians were well armed, had an abundance of ammunition and showed considerable courage, but they fired wildly, succeeding in wounding but one man, a citizen of Canyon City. Several of the Indian's were seen to fall, and many of their horses were wounded, they holding their ground all the time, no one can say what their loss actually was. Our boys were cool and brave, and had the citizen company been effectually organized so that their strength and courage could have been directed to a common end, the result I believe would have been the complete rout of the Indians. I say this not out of disparagement of the body of men, but to explain the defeat of so a large a party composed of so good material. We have every reason to feel kindly toward the Canyon City company, and many of them entertain the same idea, as I here express, that we only lost the battle for want of unity of action. It was now between 9 and 10 o'clock at night, and as yet nothing had been heard of Sergt. Casted and party, and fears began to be entertained that in attempting to rejoin he had been cut off by a flanking party of Indians. The next day Lt. W. took a party of footmen and went in search of the missing men. They traced them to the supposed fire, which proved to be a hot spring, and from thence to the vicinity of the battle ground where all sign of them was lost, and night coming on, the searching party were obliged to return with the conviction that the worst fears of their fate were correct. Having dug rifle-pits, we yet remained one day more in camp, in the faint hope that they might have escaped and would yet come in. That night we made a night march of 22 miles on our way back, and on the 15th inst., reached Canyon City, where all hands were generously received and hospitably treated. We had been out 24 days—a portion of the time on short rations, over a desolate country in snow and rain, mud and mountains. It stormed on us 14 days out of the 24, and snowed, with the exception of two or three days, more like mid winter than the middle of Spring.

While we were gone the Indians fired on the guard in charge of the animals left at this camp, shooting a hole through his great coat and running him into camp, thus capturing all the horses left behind in our outward march. The Indians also killed two citizens near Canyon City, who had gone in pursuit of stolen stock, and they are continually giving fresh proof of their increasing boldness, so much so that many persons in Canyon City fear they will attempt to take the place. They certainly need a practical illustration of the power of Uncle Sam, and that speedily, in their midst. The two companies expected here soon, will find a large area of Indian country to be traversed, and probably plenty to do in the way of fighting during the coming summer.

The names of the missing men of our command are Sergeant Robert Casted, privates Cyrus R. Ingraham and John Himbert, and one citizen, George N. Jaquith, a native of Maine. Mr. Jaquith was a resident of upper John Day's, where he was a partner in a valuable ranch. The two men who were murdered during our absence were named respectively Wilson and Overton.

Hoping that these and other outrages will soon be amply avenged, I remain yours,

HYAS CULTUS.

GEN. MCCLELLAN.—Horace Greeley concludes a long article on the Presidential prospects of Gen. McClellan in the following words:

Let us not, then, commit the common error of underrating the strength of the foe. Gen. McClellan is to be the Pro-Slavery candidate for the next President of the United States, and he will prove more formidable in the canvass than in the field. He is essentially not a soldier, but a politician, and his fighting and writing have alike been intended to train him for the Presidential race. There is not in all the loyal States a sympatizer with the Slaveholders' Rebellion who will not support him with desperate energy—not a man who like Gov. Price, of New Jersey, gravely proposed that his own State should become a satrapy of Jeff Davis' slave empire, or who, like our Gov. Seymour, wanted the Union reconstructed with New England left out, who is not a natural McClellanite. Add to every remaining devotee of the Slave Power the soldiers and others who will vote for him as a favorite General, and he becomes a candidate hard to be beaten. Only by digging down to the bed rock of Principle, and imbuing the masses with a stern repugnance to Human Slavery, with all its walks and ways, its incidents and belongings, can we insure the discomforture of this, its final and insinuating representative and embodiment. And to this end, systematic efforts should be at once commenced and vigorously prosecuted.

THE LATEST PROPHECY.—At a lecture at Newcastle, Dr. Cumming pointed to 1867 as the end of all things. It is his opinion that the very last struggle would be near Jerusalem, and that France, Russia and England would be the combatants. He admitted it is true, that he might be wrong in foundation, that he might have blundered in his arithmetic, but he had submitted to them the elements of his conclusions, and what else can a reasonable assembly desire of a prophet?

CHICAGO, April 26.—The proposition by the Governors of the different States to furnish 85,000 troops for 100 days, is in substance as follows: The troops are to be mustered into service and equipped the same as other infantry volunteers whose number to be furnished within 20 days from the date of the notice of the acceptance of the proposition; troops to serve in fortifications or wherever their services may be required without respect to State lines; no bounty to be paid the troops, nor their services to be credited on any draft for three years; draft to go on in any district short of its quota; this special draft shall be for any service proposed. The President accepted the proposition on the 23d.

CAIRO, April 25.—Memphis advices dated the 22d say Forrest's entire force was marching towards Alabama followed by Grierson.

On the 21st, Grierson's cavalry had a sharp fight with a portion of Forrest's troops near Hudsonville. The rebels retreated towards Jackson, passing through LaGrange, and leaving a number of prisoners, wagons, horses and mules in our hands.

Gen. Price evacuated Camden, Ark., and General Steele occupied the place.

WASHINGTON, April .—The Star this evening says we have information from the rebel lines as late as Friday morning the 22d to the effect that Lee is not as reported moving towards the Shenandoah Valley, but is in his old position on the Rapidan. Such movements of his cavalry as were going on seemed to be in the nature of a reconnoisance to ascertain Grant's purposes. Lee's army is preparing for a sudden movement, but is seemingly disposed to wait for Grant to open and develop his game.

The movements of our gunboats up the Rappahannock, caused apprehensions at Richmond that Burnside was effecting a landing.

Several rumors have been raised among the rebels concerning a movement up James river.

The rebels are divided in the opinion that Lee may be routed in Richmond should he fall back there, and fear that he may be outflanked by Grant should he retain his present position. Two weeks ago Lee's forces amounted to 40,000 and it is believed with reinforcements will be able to bring up total amount to over 65,000.

Williamsburg advices state the rebels are evidently massing troops in all the strong positions to resist the expected advance up the Peninsula.

The Richmond authorities, are evidently puzzled as to the designs of Grant, information being constantly received of the marching and countermarching of his troops.

Gen. Fitzhugh Lee made his appearance in the neighborhood of Charles City Court House with his cavalry forces, estimated at from 3,500 to 6,000. The greater part of this force is composed of re-enlisted veterans who have lately returned from furlough. The immediate neighborhood of Charles City Court House is garrisoned by pickets of old infantry division under Gen. El ey and a regiment of heavy artillery. The forces composed principally of heavy artillery. The 2d cavalry is stationed at Brawley's Station, York River, where they are reported to be throwing up earth works. Troops are also concentrating at all intermediate points, between York and James rivers. Contrabands state that great excitement prevailed among the scattering inhabitants of this region.

NEWBERN, N. C., April 22.—The battle which had been going on at Plymouth from the 16th to the 20th resulted in the capture of the city by the enemy on the 20th at noon, including Gen. Wessel and 15,000 men. The enemy obtained possession of the town at 8 o'clock in the morning. Gen. Wessel and his troops retreated into Fort William and held out till noon, repulsing the enemy in nine different assaults. Their loss is said to be 170—ours slight. It is reported that the enemy had left Plymouth and are now moving on Washington, N. C., and this city. The rebel Gen. Atkinson has moved towards Newbern and is expected to make an attack in a day or two. Gunboats and reinforcements will immediately be required here and at Washington. Two companies of the 2d North Carolina Union Volunteers were among the captured at Plymouth, most of whom were taken out and shot by the enemy after our forces had surrendered. All negroes found with uniforms were also shot.

The rebel ram at Plymouth, which came down the Roanoke, is expected to act in concert with other rams in an attack on Washington and Newbern. She carries three small guns and one 64 pounder. With the aid of a few gunboats these rams could be readily run down, as their sea going qualities are bad. Under cover of night the ram at Plymouth swamped two of our gunboats, but it is not expected that she will attack any respectable number of gunboats in daylight.

CHATTANOOGA, April 24.—On Friday, April 22d, at daybreak, the rebels attacked our pickets at Nickajack Gap, capturing 12 and killing four.

ST. LOUIS, April 26.—The Von Phul, from New Orleans April 18th, has arrived. It seems to be generally conceded that the late battles in Louisiana were against Banks. The enemy remained on the ground after Saturday's fight, while Banks retreated 40 miles.

The transport Black Hawk suffered considerably above Alexandria from the enemy, besides having several killed and wounded.

The steamers Rob Roy and Stepson had arrived, having run the gauntlet of a large number of guerrillas. The Rob Roy had four guns and fought her way down.

The rebels were still in the vicinity of Pleasant Hill. Our army is at Grand Ecore, fortifying both sides of the river. Banks and Admiral Porter were both there. There was only five feet of water at Grand Ecore. The gunboat Eastport was aground. Prisoners report that Gens. Kirby Smith and Sibley were killed in the recent battle.

Three boats used for towing on Red river bound for New Orleans, having stopped at a plantation to take on produce the soldiers got drunk at a distillery in the place, when a company of the 1st Louisiana rebel cavalry made a descent on the boats. The passengers and crew were robbed and the boats burned.

Gold in New York 178@179½.

NEW YORK, April 25.—The New York specials say it is understood but not officially however that the court martial which tried Admiral Wilkes, decided that he should be dismissed from the service.

Col. Fish, late Provost Marshal of Baltimore, has been sentenced to pay a fine of $5,000 and to be imprisoned at the Albany Penitentiary until the fine is paid for defrauding the Government.

CHICAGO, April 25.—The House last night passed the Senate bill reported from the Committee of Public Lands, with reference to donation of land claims in Oregon and Washington Territory. The bill donates lands to Oregon for the construction of Wagon Road and Military Postal purposes.

FORTRESS MONROE, April 27.—The Petersburg, Va., Express of the 22d, says orders have been given to the First Auditor to remove his bureau from Richmond to Montgomery. Alabama, forthwith.

Dispatches from Mobile the 19th say Red river has suddenly fallen, leaving forty transports and gunboats above the rapids which will not get out until the water rises.

A CARD.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY begs leave to announce to the public, and particularly to his patients on the Pacific Coast, that he is about to close his business with the view of retiring, for the present from the arduous labors of his profession.

As it is his intention during the ensuing Fall to leave the United States for the purpose of visiting Europe he will not receive any new patients after the first day of July, 1864. Those, therefore who may desire his service will apply within a reasonable time. Dr. Czapkay desires to assure those who are now under his care that they continue to receive all the attention which his obligations prescribe and their cases respectively demand. Those who hold contracts guaranteeing a cure are hereby requested to report to Dr. Czapkay before the first day of June 1864 whether or not they are satisfied that a cure has been effected in their cases respectively. All who do not thus report within the time specified will be regarded and treated as cured.

In taking leave of his patients and the public Dr. Czapkay desires to express his profound gratitude for the extraordinary patronage bestowed upon him and the confidence reposed in his professional ability.

During his residence in California, Dr. Czapkay has treated successfully upwards of twenty five thousand patients, which is the best guarantee that his course of treatment has been rewarded with success at once personally gratifying and almost unprecedented in the annals of medicine.

Any physician in good standing who may desire to purchase the interest of Dr. Czapkay in his "Institute," and the good will of his business, may make application on state proposals.

Address Dr. L. J. CZAPKAY Medical Institute, Sacramento street below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office, San Francisco.

PROGRESSING RAPIDLY.—The work, both within and without the new Presbyterian Church is fast drawing toward completion. FOR ASTORIA.—The steamer John H. Couch, Capt. Holman, has again the carrying trade between this city and Astoria all to herself, the O. S. N. Co.'s steamer Julia having been withdrawn, and returned to the Cascade route. The Couch is now receiving a coat of fresh paint, while her machinery is all being overhauled, and she will be on hand for the next trip to-morrow morning. Now that the weather is so pleasant, a jaunt down the river and a "sniff" of salt air will be delightful and we have no doubt that the Couch and her urbane officers will maintain their wonted popularity, and receive a liberal patronage from our health and pleasure seekers. The trip is made through with some daylight to spare at each end of the route.

"CREATURE COMFORTS."—The warm weather is bringing sherry cobblers, mint juleps, punches, and other "high toned" drinks, no excepting lager beer into vogue. Green peas and other vegetables of this season's growth, are also becoming common upon our dinner tables.

BOISE EXPRESS.—The steamer Wilson G. Hunt arrived at her wharf in this city about 4 o'clock P. M. yesterday, bringing a Boise Express. The bullion in charge of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Messenger amounted to about 100 lbs. A large amount was in the hands of passengers.

BACK WATER.—The Columbia is not able to "leave its bed," however much it may be inclined to raise, but it has a tendency to check the flow of the Willamette, which is "backed up" considerably, keeping on the level with the Columbia.

STEAMER NEW WORLD.—We learn by a private telegram, that the splendid steamer New World, Capt. C. C. Dall, left San Francisco yesterday morning for Portland. The weather was fine there for the starting, and we may reasonably expect her on Saturday afternoon.

PUGILISTIC.—Two persons old enough to know better, had a rencounter on Front street yesterday, occasioned by some trivial affair. The prompt intervention of friends prevented any "blood letting."

ON THE ROAD TO HAPPINESS.—Two loving couples arrived by the steamer Senator last evening, en route to Vancouver, where they intend to be joined in the holy bands of wedlock.

FINE FLOWERS.—Several boxes of beautiful flowers were received in the city yesterday, from Mr. Miller's place, at Milwaukie.

PROGRESSING RAPIDLY.—The work, both within and without the new Presbyterian Church is fast drawing toward completion. The appearance of surroundings are very much improved by the removal of about a foot of earth from the front and side of the building, and the grading of the lot. The removal of the stumps which have hitherto cumbered the street in front, is also under way, and between cutting and blasting will soon entirely disappear from the half of the street adjoining the church property. The inside carpenter work is completed, the pews neatly grained, the floors carpeted, and soon the cushions for the seats will be placed. The gas fixtures will finish the body of the auditory. The organ, the first introduced into Oregon, is being put up. The pipes, 302 in number, were placed yesterday, and in a short time will be in readiness to perform its part in the services of dedication and worship.

FOR ASTORIA.—The steamer John H. Couch, Capt. Holman, has again the carrying trade between this city and Astoria all to herself, the O. S. N. Co.'s steamer Julia having been withdrawn, and returned to the Cascades route. The Couch is now receiving a coat of fresh paint, while her machinery is all being overhauled, and she will be on hand for the next trip to-morrow morning. Now that the weather is so pleasant, a jaunt down the river and a "sniff" of salt air will be delightful, and we have no doubt that the Couch and her urbane officers will maintain their wonted popularity, and receive a liberal patronage from our health and pleasure seekers. The trip is made through with some daylight to spare at each end of the route.

WHO DID IT?—Yesterday afternoon a skiff, containing a lady and gentleman, came ashore at the ferry landing, and after pulling their boat bow well up, so that it could not float away, the couple proceeded up town to make a few purchases. While they were absent the steamer Senator came along, and the commotion of her wheel caused the skiff to fill, much to the consternation of the party when they returned. We don't think they know the boat their boat came full of water. Moral: Never pull the bow of a boat so high as to prevent the stern from riding safely over any probable sea, kicked up by roguish steamers.

A PUBLIC BENEFACTOR.—Yesterday afternoon our citizens were regaled by the refreshing coolness incident upon the advent of a street sprinkler. A gratuitous round was given by Mr. Landreth, owner of this efficient machine for relief from the flying clouds of dust, and he will soon call upon merchants, and others interested, for subscriptions to enable him to prosecute the business with profit to himself. It is a laudable undertaking, and we trust he may be compensated for a constant employment of two or more of these sprinklers.

GENEROUS.—The proprietor of Pearson's Grand Historic Mirror of the American War has generously offered to give an exhibition at the Theatre, to-morrow evening, the entire proceeds to be given in aid of the Sanitary Commission. The object is worthy, and when taken in connection with the truthful illustrations as portrayed by this Panorama, ought not to fail in eliciting a liberal response from the finer feelings of a grateful public—we hope to see every inch of available space in the Theatre building, occupied on to-morrow evening.

RECORDER'S COURT.—The following cases were tried before Recorder McCoy yesterday: City of Portland vs. Joseph Delevan, N. H. Gray, and A. J. Hunter, alias "Scotty," all found guilty of violent and disorderly conduct. The former paid a fine of $5 and cost, and was discharged. The two latter were "sent up" for an aggregate space of seven days. G. Mitchell, for assaulting and beating Thos. Tower, paid a fine of $10 and cost.

GRAND BALL.—We acknowledge receipt of an invitation to attend the ball on Monday evening next, upon the occasion of the opening of the new What Cheer House building, to which allusion was made in our columns a few mornings since. It will doubtless be a grand affair, and we hope to drop in and partake of the well known hospitality of its proprietor upon the auspicious occasion.

IMPROVEMENTS.—The property owners on Main street have determined to make that thoroughfare passable, and by common consent have entered upon the work. A new sidewalk has been constructed from Front st. to First, and all the bad places in the street, as far back as the Plaza, are being filled up to the proper grade.

"CREATURE COMFORTS"—The warm weather is bringing sherry cobblers, mint juleps, ... and other "high toned" drinks, not excepting lager beer, in vogue. Green peas, and other vegetables of this season's growth, are also becoming common upon our tables.

BOISE EXPRESS.—The steamer Wilson G. Hunt arrived at her wharf in this city about 5 o'clock P. M. yesterday, bringing a Boise Express. The bullion in charge of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Messenger amounted to about $30,000. A large amount was in the hands of passengers.

BACK WATER.—The Columbia is not able to "leave its bed," however much it may be inclined to raise, but it has a tendency to check the flow of the Willamette, which is "backed up" considerably, keeping on the level with the Columbia.

STEAMER NEW WORLD.—We learn by a private telegram, that the splendid steamer New World, Capt. C. C. Dall, left San Francisco yesterday morning for Portland. The weather was fine there for the starting, and we may reasonably expect her on Saturday afternoon.

PUGILISTIC.—Two persons old enough to know better, had a rencounter on Front street yesterday, occasioned by some trivial affair. The prompt intervention of friends prevented any "blood letting."

ON THE ROAD TO HAPPINESS.—Two loving couples arrived by the steamer Senator last evening, en route to Vancouver, where they intend to be joined in the holy bands of wedlock.

FINE FLOWERS.—Several boxes of beautiful flowers were received in the city yesterday, from Mr. Miller's place, at Milwaukie.

A WRONG STATEMENT CORRECTED.—We give place to the following letter, as an act of justice to Capt. Blake, of the ill-fated Ocean Bird. And, to further correct a wrong impression, we will add that the statement alluded to did not appear in the OREGONIAN:

ASTORIA, April 25, 1864.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:—I think it was stated in the DAILY MORNING OREGONIAN of April 12th, or thereabouts, that Capt. Blake, late from the wreck of the bark Ocean Bird, had put out for some place, from Astoria, with the greater portion of some funds contributed on board the steamer Panama, for the joint benefit of the entire crew picked up from on board said wreck, and placed in his hands for distribution. I know nothing of the matter or application. I am requested, however, by a gentleman just returned from San Francisco, to say that Capt. Blake left here suddenly and unexpectedly on a vessel, and unintentionally took away the money referred to; and from San Francisco has sent the said money ($10) to the place, for the use of the men now here in the Marine Hospital. Truly, yours, W. W. PARKER.

ONE WORD TO THE LADIES.—We supposed that the ultima thule in the art had been reached months ago, when we saw for the first time a Grover & Baker Machine in full action; but now, a lady friend, well posted in all matters pertaining thereto, informs us that an important part of the performance escaped our notice, and in proof thereof, exhibits to our astonished gaze her little boy's frock embroidered with tasteful and fanciful designs, which she informs us was all done—stitching, embroidery, and all—on the same machine. This is certainly remarkable, but nevertheless true, and if all the purchasers of this celebrated machine are as enthusiastic as our friend, the proprietors must have one continued "hymn of praise" ascending in their behalf.—New York Examiner.

J. W. J. Pierson, Agent for Portland.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE.—That Shelby has received by this steamer the finest assorted stock of Boots and Shoes that has ever before been offered in this market. An ocular demonstration would convince you of the fact. See to it, and consult your interest.

Protection No. 4.—Drill this evening at 7 o'clock.
April 23, 1864. W. T. PATTERSON, Sec'y.

Convalescence after Typhoid Fever.—Every one who knows anything of this fever knows that the period of convalescence is extremely long, if indeed the health be ever perfectly re-established. In such cases the PERUVIAN SYRUP supplies a want long felt by the profession, and has restored invalids to health in a remarkably rapid manner, when all the usual tonic remedies had failed. ap25d6t

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—The operation of this palatable remedy upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them.—Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties, and it is recommended to mothers, enfeebled by the cares and duties of maternity, as the safest and best tonic they can probably use. In all the crisis of female life, it will be found eminently useful, and elderly persons will derive much more benefit from it than from ordinary stimulants.—Sold by all Druggists and Dealers everywhere. ap26d1m

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS,

Gravel, Dropsical Swellings,

GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS ATtended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact, it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure for the maladies above-mentioned, and also

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY,
LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every disease any way connected with the disorders or decay of the PROCREATIVE FUNCTIONS. Persons about to marry, if conscious of any weakness, should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once rebraced, revivified and built up. Well may this celebrated medicine be called the

MEDICAL WONDER

The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man; he stands erect, he moves with a firm step; his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom, of an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active; and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor. The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER, INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS AND CATARRH OF THE BLADDER, STRANGUARY AND BURNING OR PAINFUL URINATING, CALCULUS, GRAVEL, BRICK DUST DEPOSIT, AND MUCOUS OR MILKY DISCHARGES AFTER URINATING.

For those diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. TRY IT in these cases, and you will ever give praise to

CONSTITUTION WATER.

Males or Females.

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back, and through your hips? CONSTITUTION WATER will relieve you like magic.

PERUVIAN SYRUP,

OR PROTECTED

Solution of Protoxide of Iron,

Has been used with Great Success in Curing

DYSPEPSIA,

Affections of the Liver, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Bronchitis and Consumptive Tendencies, Disordered State of the Blood, Female Complaints, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Scurvy, the prostrating effects of Lead or Mercury,

GENERAL DEBILITY,

and all Diseases which require a

Tonic and Alterative Medicine.

THE PROOFS OF ITS EFFICACY are so numerous, so well authenticated, and of such peculiar character, that sufferers cannot reasonably hesitate to receive the proffered aid.
The class of diseases for which the Syrup provides a cure, is precisely that which has so often baffled the highest order of medical skill. The facts are tangible, the witnesses accessible, and the safety and efficacy of the Syrup incontrovertible.

From well-known Citizens of Boston.

The undersigned having experienced the beneficial effects of the "Peruvian Syrup," do not hesitate to recommend it to the attention of the public.

Certificate of Dr. Hayes.

It is well known that the medicinal effect of Protoxide of Iron is lost by even a very brief exposure to air, and that to maintain a solution of Protoxide of Iron, without further oxidation, has been deemed impossible.
In the Peruvian Syrup, this desirable point is attained by COMBINATION IN A WAY BEFORE UNKNOWN, and this solution may replace all the proto carbonates, citrates and tartrates of the Materia Medica. A. A. HAYES, M. D., Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

IODINE WATER.

IODINE WATER IS THE MOST IMPORTANT DIScovery of modern chemistry, and it is impossible to over-estimate its influence as a remedial agent. Iodine has been considered the most useful article in Materia Medica, and many of the most scientific and practical chemists and physicians have investigated its effects upon the human system. It is to act upon the

HEART,
LIVER, KIDNEYS,
DIGESTIVE ORGANS AND GLANDULAR SYSTEM,

and to have great control over

SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.

Notwithstanding the zeal and ability which have been devoted to its investigation, it remained almost useless, until Dr Henry Anders, a physician and chemist of New York, after years of patient labor and experiment, discovered a chemical process which enabled him to dissolve without a solvent. This, considered impossible by the scientific world, is attested by certificates of analysis from Dr. J. R. Chilton of this city, and Prof Booth, U. S. Mint, Philadelphia. The importance of this discovery was so highly appreciated by the Faculty that it was published in the Medical Journals, and its use recommended to practitioners (see "American Medical Monthly," July 6, 1859 page 76.)

PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER.

This valuable medicine is now available to the public for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer, Heart, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, etc.

AS A TONIC

Its operation is evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color; hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes full, strong and florid.
Full directions accompany each bottle.
Sold by all Druggists. Price, $1 per bottle. Prepared by Dr H. Anders & Co., Physicians and Chemists, New York.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS.

THE OPERATION OF THIS PALATABLE REMEDY upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties.

Invigorate the System.

Vigorous digestion and pure bile produce nutritious blood, and nutritious blood a healthy frame. Does the victim of a dyspeptic stomach and a disordered liver desire to know how the digestion may be improved, the bile and other fluids of the body purified?

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters

Will accomplish this desirable revolution in the system, regulating the secretions and excretions, giving tone to the animal juices which dissolve the food, strengthen every relaxed nerve, muscle and fibre, and brings the whole machinery of vitality into vigorous and healthful play.

Strengthen the System.

The best means of imparting vigor to the broken-down frame and shattered constitution, which has yet been invented or discovered, is proffered to the feeble of both sexes and all ages in

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Debility, from whatever cause arising, may be cured; strength, in whatever manner it may have been wasted, may be restored by the use of this powerful and healthy invigorant. For indigestion and all its painful effects, bodily and mental, they are a positive specific.

A word to the Aged.

In the decline of life the loss of vital force consequent upon physical decay can only be safely supplied by some reviving preparation which recruits the strength and spirits without entailing the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We tender to the aged

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters,

As an invigorant and restorative, immediate in its beneficial action and permanent in its effects. It tones the stomach, improves the appetite, and acts like a charm upon the spirits.

For Females.

Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility, and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which the sex they are subject. It cheers and enlightens the depressed mental powers, as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any reaction.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

Home from the War.

"There'll be a bitin' black frost on the hills to-night, I tell ye!" said Moses Atterly, as he threw an armful of oak logs, fringed with silver gray moss, upon the stone hearth, and rubbed his hands cheerily before the red, roaring blaze that encircled the rude iron fire-dog in drifts of ruby sparks.

He was a tall, wiry looking old man, with mild hazel eyes, and a skin well nigh as brown as the basket of butternuts that stood in the corner—a man whom you might easily fancy to have grown up among those rock-bound, wind-swept wildernesses, as one of the giant pines on the steep cliffs above had grown—stalwart, sturdy, and true to the very heart's core. The room was very plain, with no curtains at the narrow-paned windows, and no carpet save the old zigzag veins in the hickory boards that formed the floor; yet there was an air of comfort in the splint bottom chairs, with red morden cushions, and the round table, neatly spread for the evening meal. Over the fire, an apoplectic black tea-kettle kept up a dreamy song, and Moses Atterly's only child art, with folded hands, in the chimney corner, watching the vaporous wreath curling from the spout—a pretty, soft eyed girl, with a late rose in her braids of glossy chestnut-brown hair, and straight, clearly-cut features—now in shadow, and all irradiated by the cheerful torches of flame that played at hide and seek in and out among the crevices of the great bubbling, singing logs.

"Have you been to the post-office to-night, father!" said she, suddenly looking up as Moses gave the smouldering back log a sort of remonstrating kick.

"No; but I met Jim Grayling down by the hemlock hollow, and he said he was going straight there—so I told him to ask if there was anything fur our folks. He'll be here directly, I calculate, for it must be all of two hours ago."

"I am very sorry," said Bessie, almost petulantly. "Father, I detest the sight of that man!"

"My daughter," remonstrated Moses Atterly, "that ain't accordin' to either sense or gospel."

"Well, I can't help it, father," coaxed Bessie, stealing her soft, dimpled hand into the rough palm that lay on Moses Atterly's knee. "Somehow, he always seemed to me like"

She stopped suddenly—so suddenly that the late rose fell out of her hair and lay on the stone hearth—for, as she turned her head she saw James Grayling standing beside them, unfolding a coarse, white and red comforter from about his neck. He stooped, without saying a word, and picked up the rose for her.

"Why, Jim!" said Farmer Atterly, "where on earth did you drop down from? I didn't hear you come in."

"Didn't you? I'm sure I knocked loud enough," said Grayling, with a deep red flush slowly fading from his cheek. "Pretty well to-night, Bessie?"

"I am quite well enough," pouted Bessie, without looking at him, and tossing her recovered rose in among the glowing cinders. Somehow or other it had lost its charms, after having lain in James Grayling's hand a second.

"Sit down, Jim," said the farmer. "Any mails for us to-night?"

"Nothing."

What a strange smile passed over his face as he saw the sudden downward droop of Bessie Atterly's eyelashes—the quiver around her mouth.

"Nothin'! That's queer. You see Bessie's feelin' kind o' worried 'cause she don't hear nothin' from Henry Ives."

James Grayling paused, a little maliciously, to notice the sparkle in Bessie's eyes as she leaned forward with reddening cheeks and intent look.

"What does he say?" she gasped as Grayling spoke something to her father in whispered tones.

"Well, I'm afraid you'll feel badly about it; but a friend has written him a letter, in which he says Harry Ives was captured, with half a dozen others, by a skirmishing party, a week before he wrote."

"Captured?"

"Yes, and that isn't all. He says that they did'nt half believe Harry Ives cared whether he was carried down South or not; for he had taken a great notion to some pretty girl down in Virginia—a planter's darter, I believe—and"

"I don't believe it, James Grayling," said Bessie, springing to her feet, with flashing eye and passion-crimsoned forehead; "I don't believe a word of it. You are repeating some vile falsehood."

"I knew you'd feel bad," said Grayling, with provoking mildness; "but I thought that you ought to know how matters stood.—I can show you my friend Sam's letter, if that will be more satisfactory. I never had much faith in Harry Ives—a careless, dashing fellow, who"

"Hush! I will not listen to another sentence!" ejaculated Bessie, angrily, and with a certain strange dignity in her girl-face and slender form.

"Mr. Atterly," said Grayling with aggravating moderation and calmness, "how long is it since your daughter received a letter from Harry Ives?"

"Well, its a conseid'able spell," said the farmer, "but letters do take time to reach us, you know."

"Yes, particularly when they're never sent," sneered Grayling.

"Father, don't listen to him," cried Bessie, passionately. "If the whole world were to tell me Harry Ives was untrue, I would'nt believe them!"

And Bessie fainted quietly away with her chestnut braids of hair drooping over her father's knee.

Poor Child! Could she have foreseen the weary months of waiting for the letter which never came from the far-off southern hills, the hope deferred which maketh the heart sick, that were in store for her, she might have been sorry that she had not died then and there, holding fast to that firm faith in Harry Ives' fidelity.

James Grayling—a crafty, patient man—bided his time. It came at last, when the tender green of the hill-sides shriveled and grew brown under the starry, silent frost of the bitter December nights, and the keen wind rushed with thunderous swell through the lonely pine forests in these wild solitudes.

"Daughter, it's the dearest wish of my heart," said Farmer Atterly, solemnly, as he sat with Bessie in the old silent room, "I'm getting well on in years; and if I could but see you married to some good and true man before I am taken away, I should rest much easier in my grave. James Grayling has been almost a son to me these months of trial and trouble. He is coming for his final answer. Let it be Yes!"

Bessie shuddered. That year of sick, wistful grief had changed her into a pale, fragile girl, with large, frightened eyes, ever roving from side to side, as if seeking something which never came.

"Wait, father," she murmured, eagerly, as if pleading for life itself; "wait a little longer—only a little longer!"

"I have waited, Bessie. It is a year and over since Henry Ives has sent you either word or message. He may be dead—better dead than a scoundrel!—but James Grayling has been as true as steel to me all this time. He deserves you, Bessie; and, when, you're once married, you'll be sure to learn to love him. Shall we say this day month for your wedding, daughter?"

That night Bessie laid her cold hand in James Grayling's eager palm, and said "Yes," dreamily, to whatever he proposed. What had life left for her? As well be Jas. Grayling's wife as anything else, since God willed that she should live and suffer on, and the dreary path of years lay spread before her listless feet!

A Bit of Advice for Boys.—"You are made to be kind," says Horace Mann, "generous and magnanimous. If there is a boy in school who has a club-foot, don't let him know you ever saw it. If there is a boy with ragged clothes, don't talk about rags in his hearing. If there is a lame boy, assign him some part of the game which does not require any running. If there is a hungry one, give him a part of your dinner. If there is a dull one, help him to get his lesson. If there is a bright one, be not envious of him; for if one boy is proud of his talents, another envious of them, there are two great wrongs, and no more talents than before. If a larger boy has injured you, and is sorry for it, forgive him, and request the teacher not to punish him. All the school will show by their countenance how much better it is than to have a great fuss."

U. S. Marshal's Notice.

United States of America, District of Oregon, ss.

WHEREAS, a libel of information has been filed in the District Court of the United States for the District of Oregon, on the 5th day of April, A D 1864, by E. W. McGraw, Attorney of the United States for said District, in behalf of the United States against the ship or vessel Jenny Jones and thirty casks of Ale, and twenty casks of Porter, a portion of the cargo of said ship or vessel, alleging in substance that on or about the second day of April A D 1864, the said ship or vessel Jenny Jones imported into the United States from the foreign port of Victoria, in Vancouver Island, said thirty casks of Ale and said twenty casks of Porter in packages containing less quantities than six dozen bottles each, and praying process against the said ship or vessel, and against the said goods, and that the same be declared forfeited to the United States.

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the warrant under the seal of the said Court, to me directed and delivered, I do hereby give public notice to all persons claiming said vessel or said goods, or in any manner interested therein, that they be and appear before the said District Court to be held at Portland, in said District, on the first Monday of May next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, (provided the same shall be a day of jurisdiction, otherwise on the next day of jurisdiction thereafter), then and there to interpose their claims, and make their allegations in that behalf.
